Administering Interscholastic Unified Sports

Unified Sports is an inclusive sports program that unites Special Olympics athletes (individuals with intellectual disabilities) and partners (individuals without intellectual disabilities) as teammates for training and competition.

To better understand how to implement a Unified Sports program at the interscholastic level, the National Federation of State High School Associations, in partnership with Special Olympics, has created the course Administering Interscholastic Unified Sports.

This course is designed to assist and guide administrators in implementing a Unified Sports program by learning about various guidelines, strategies, components, and scenarios related to the program.

ACL Injury Prevention

Every season, ACL injuries take thousands of students out of the game. To help you reduce the risk of ACL injuries for your student-athletes, the NFHS has partnered with the Hospital for Special Surgery to bring you this course.

This course is designed to teach you about the causes of ACL injury, how to identify and correct movement deficiencies that can lead to ACL injuries, and how to effectively lead a Neurodynamic Warm-Up before practices and games.

Afterschool Security

Creating a safe school environment for afterschool activities is everyone's responsibility. Events and news stories across the country have helped to heighten concerns among educators and parents about school safety. This important course presents practical strategies for developing and implementing a school safety team and an afterschool activities supervision plan.

Appearance and Performance Enhancing Drugs and Substances

The use of Appearance and Performance Enhancing Drugs and Substances, or APEDS, affects every school. To help the interscholastic community address this issue, the NFHS has created this APEDS course. The course explains what APEDS are, what forms they take, and what their effects can be on students. It highlights the reasons why students use APEDS in and out of athletics and gives guidance and resources for detecting and preventing the use of APEDS. No matter what your relationship is to high school activities, this information will be beneficial to you.

Bullying, Hazing and Inappropriate Behaviors

Protecting students doesn't happen just on the court or on the field. More and more, news media and criminal investigations are documenting examples of inappropriate relationships, sexual harassment, hazing, and bullying. In a fast-growing world of electronic and social media, these issues are becoming more prevalent and, in some cases, more severe. That is why the National Federation of State High School Associations has developed the course Bullying, Hazing, and Inappropriate Behaviors. This course takes a hard look at these difficult issues and provides recommendations and procedures that coaches should follow to protect their students, their program, and themselves.

Communicable Skin Infections

Nothing is more important than the health and safety of the students that participate in interscholastic athletics. A common issue that occurs during participation is the presence of communicable skin infections. That is why the National Federation of State High School Associations has developed the course, Communicable Skin Infections. This course has been designed to help coaches, parents, and students know what communicable skin infections are, be able to identify the various types of them, understand ways to evaluate and treat an infection if it occurs, and know how to prevent future occurrences from taking place. So take the course, Communicable Skin Infections, available for FREE on the NFHS Learning Center.

Coaching Mental Wellness

It's widely known that stress, anxiety, and depression create challenges for both society and individuals, including interscholastic students. Coaches serve a crucial role, acting as a liaison to get students dealing with mental health issues the proper help they need. That is why the NFHS is proud to bring you the course, Coaching Mental Wellness, in response to this reality. With a focus on creating a framework to improve BOTH physical and mental wellness, this course also highlights various signs, symptoms, and strategies to deal with mental health issues in a POSITIVE manner.

Coaching Student Leadership

Learning to be an effective leader is one of the most important skills that students can gain through high school activities. Coaches play a critical role in supporting their leadership development. To help coaches develop leadership skills in their student-athletes, the NFHS has partnered with the Michigan High School Athletic Association to bring you this course in our Student Leadership. This course guides you through the content in our two student leadership courses in this series: 1. Becoming a Leader, and 2. Leading Others, and gives perspective to how a coach plays a role in leadership development. For coaches and students to get the most out of this Student Leadership series, we encourage students and coaches to take these courses at the same time. Coaches cannot just give a student the captain's title and hope they turn into a good leader. This course is designed to help coaches learn how to intentionally develop effective leaders. Specifically, this course will help coaches: Focus on building strong coach-athlete relationships to fuel leadership development Explore and evaluate the various leadership roles that can be facilitated on teams And guide the use of strategies for students to apply leadership skills and enhance their leadership awareness and confidence. Coaches will learn from the practical thoughts, advice, and experiences of student-athletes from around the country to help them establish a plan for helping students GROW as leaders.

Concussion in Sports

The NFHS has teamed up with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) to educate coaches, officials, parents and students on the importance of proper concussion recognition and management in high school sports. This course highlights the impact of sports-related concussion on athletes, teaches how to recognize a suspected concussion, and provides protocols to manage a suspected concussion with steps to help players return to play safely after a concussion. Each state's requirements for concussion management are included as part of the course.

CPR and AED Training

While interscholastic activities promote health, competition, and teamwork, the potential for medical emergency is always present. The NFHS, in partnership with the Vanderbilt Youth Sports Health Center, has developed this CPR and AED course to help school programs be more prepared for these emergencies.

This course will highlight the Importance of creating, implementing, and maintaining an emergency action plan, along with the ways in which you can identify a sudden cardiac arrest emergency. This course includes demonstrations of what to do when someone collapses – calling 911 and managing the area, properly performing CPR, and how to appropriately use an AED. You will learn practice techniques that you can use to build your confidence before an emergency occurs.

Developing Youth Through Sport

There is power within sport. Sport has the ability to transform people and communities and change lives.

That is why the National Federation of State High School Associations, in partnership with the University of Washington's Center for Leadership in Athletics, has created the course, Developing Youth Through Sport.

In this course, you will learn about how coaches can help the students on their team build their skills through sport, foster physical and emotional safety, create an environment for learning, and model positive behavior for their team.

Engaging Effectively With Parents

Engaging Effectively with Parents, provides a unique student-centered curriculum and presents essential techniques and methods for coaches to effectively communicate and interact with students, parents and guardians. This course features specific guidance for speaking, listening, and implementing a communication system, and provides strategies for dealing with problematic parents and guardians. The course provides many printable resources coaches can use in their programs.

First Aid, Health and Safety

There may be no more critical element in the ability of interscholastic students to participate in activities than their health and safety. This is why the NFHS has partnered with the American Red Cross to bring you First Aid, Health and Safety. This online course is designed as an overview of first aid, including best practices for many situations requiring medical attention. The skills taught in this course do not replace the expertise of a medical professional but they do offer guidelines and techniques for temporary assistance until medical experts arrive on the scene. And because accidents or injuries can happen anywhere, not all of the knowledge and skills you will learn in this course are strictly for athletic injuries. They may also be used to aid officials, fellow coaches, and spectators who become injured or fall ill.

Football Tackling

Football is a physical game. Proper tackling skills and technique can help minimize the risk associated with the sport.

The NFHS has developed this free course, Football Tackling, with support from national football experts, including high school football coaches and administrators.

The videos and other resources in this course will help you teach, evaluate and program tackling for your team. You will be introduced to common types of tackles, the fundamentals that help create a more effective and safer tackle, and the basics of equipment fitting. You will discover methods for programming and managing the learning process and important issues of contact load will be addressed, including intensity and impact during drills.

Name, Image and Likeness

The National Federation of State High School Associations has partnered with Advance to bring you this course on Name, Image and Likeness. This course has been designed to define NIL, provide examples of how it can be leveraged by high school students, identify misconceptions that various stakeholders have about NIL, and highlight aspects that students and families should consider when interested in pursuing NIL opportunities. This course will explain how leveraging NIL does not include students being paid to play their sport, but instead using their own identity to create a brand and business for themselves.

Protecting Students from Abuse

Abusive behaviors and misconduct do not belong within athletic and activity programs. To assist in creating an enjoyable and safe environment for students, the U.S. Center for SafeSport, in collaboration with the NFHS, has developed "Protecting Students from Abuse." The course presents definitions of several types of abusive behaviors and misconduct, the signs and symptoms of abuse, and the ways in which someone can report these behaviors. The course also includes some DOs and DON'Ts for making a report.

Social Media

Through the use of social media, everyone now has the ability to be a mass communicator. This has greatly impacted the sports industry, including high school sports and activities. This course is designed to assist you in setting clear boundaries and guidelines for your students' responsible social media usage. It will help you in turning social media into a positive experience for both you and your students by framing social media as a tool that you can use to promote your program and your personal brand. Taking this course will help you stop fighting social media, and instead use it to positively impact your students and your organization.

Sportsmanship

Sportsmanship is the foundation for interscholastic sports and activities. In this course, you will learn the definition of sportsmanship and highlights of what good sportsmanship looks and sounds like. Appropriate conduct and behavior will also be discussed, as it is at the core of creating and providing a positive interscholastic experience. Coaches, officials, parents, and fans all have a role in creating a positive environment for young people and understanding those roles is critically important. Do your part in contributing to good sportsmanship in your school and community and take the course "Sportsmanship", available for free on the NFHS Learning Center.

Teaching and Modeling Behavior

Teaching and modeling appropriate behavior is key in developing a positive environment for you and your students.

To help you serve as a role model to your students, fans, parents and community, the NFHS has developed Teaching and Modeling Behavior. This online course helps you to learn ways to teach and demonstrate appropriate behavior, as well as the value of sportsmanship. It gives you tips for how to deal with certain situations you will face before, during, and even after the season ends.

Throughout the course, there will be several examples that will test your students' reactions to certain situations, as well as serving as a guide for you, as a coach, to be proactive when confronting inappropriate behaviors.

Teaching Sports Skills

Teaching Sports Skills, based on the National Standards for Sport Coaches, provides the teacher/coach with information needed for successful teaching methods. Successful coaching and successful teaching share many characteristics in their approaches and results. This course provides education for those individuals who have not had training in how to teach sports skills.

The Collapsed Student

High school coaches know the importance of preparation. You spend hours developing practice and game plans. You work tirelessly to perfect performance all in an effort to help your students excel in their sport or activity and in life.

Every year high school students endure serious injuries and suffer life-threatening medical emergencies while participating in sports and activities. The causes are many and varied. Some may result from known medical conditions, while others may be a consequence of the activity, environmental conditions, or an unrecognized medical condition.

The bottom line, when you witness the collapse of an athlete, you may be responsible for their immediate and appropriate care. But what do you do? Who do you call? Where do you start?

This course will teach you the importance of developing Emergency Action Plans and practicing them, including assigning responsibilities to team members. You'll discover the three H's; HEART, HEAT and HEAD and their relationship to potentially fatal injuries and illnesses. When your athlete collapses and you need to act, you will know an action plan designed to take you step by step through the process of helping the collapsed athlete. You will be prepared when any emergency arises.
